Ta-ra-ra-Boom-de-ay!

Is the refrain of the latest song that has caught the public ear from the stage, and it has gained a world-wide reputation. It is

An Importation,

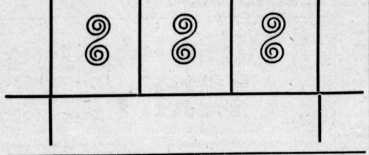

Of course, for such gigantic intellectual effort as is involved in the construction of such a rare work of art must be of foreign origin and one that escaped

The McKinley Bill.

Fair Bros. & Co. may not be able to sing the song for you, but they can offer Dry Goods, Clothing, &c., at a price that is more profitable to you than any song that was ever sung.

When you come to town next week remember that F. M. Westerfield is prepared to entertain all who stop at the Hartford Home. He will furnish you the best of accommodations and the best of everything to eat the market affords at most reasonable prices by the meal, day or week.

Mr. Frederic D. Lowy, of Rochester, N. Y., has been engaged by the Lectures Club to deliver his splendid lecture and educational entertainment here on the evening of March 15th. Mr. Lowy comes highly recommended and will no doubt be greeted by a large audience.

Hamilton, Collins & Co., proprietors of the Anderson Bazaar, a deservedly popular firm, sold their entire stock last Thursday and the firm has dissolved. This severs Mr. S. W. Anderson's business connection with our town. He came here from Canby in 1880 and his business has been marked with great success from start to finish.

The Fortnightly Club, which met with Miss Eva Morton Monday night, was well attended, despite the inclement weather. That being Longfellow's birthday, the evening was spent in reading his biography and discussing his works. The select readings and tableaux were highly enjoyable. The music furnished by the Rose Orchestra was fine.

This county has more natural resources than any other county in the State, and the good people should see to it that a specimen of every kind of product, mineral or, to be found in the county, be placed in the hands of the committee appointed to receive them at the very earliest possible moment. The names of the committee with full instructions will be found in another column.

Mr. Robert Ute, a well known citizen of Rockport community, left yesterday for New York City, accompanied by his family, where they will in a few days for Glasgow, Scotland, where they will spend some time among old friends.

Mr. Ute is a practical miner and will return in a few months and open and operate the Hendrie mine, one of the finest coal mines in the county, located not far from Rockport.

H. B. Taylor, who sold his interest in a dry goods store at this place and went to Louisville seven years ago and accepted a clerkship with L. Well, has purchased the business and will conduct the same in the future. Mr. Taylor is a wide-awake business gentleman. His many friends here will be glad to hear of his success. His sister, Miss Ella Taylor, who has been employed as one of his clerks, left yesterday for Louisville.

Outing at Fordville.

Last Saturday night Belle Sanders and Lum Morgan went to Noah Miller's at Fordville, filled themselves full of hard cider and went to a dance at Mr. J. J. Hill's near town and proceeded to raise "sheel," beginning by cutting Frank Roberts on the back of the neck.

Then they attacked Hon. Tabor, who tried to escape, but they chased him for a hundred yards or more, cutting him severely, though not dangerously.

Next they attacked Hayden Westerfield, who was with a young lady, and before he could save the young lady he required nine severe cuts in the neck, which came near severing the jugular vein. Still not satisfied, they proceeded to rock the house and break up the establishment and then the family very much. Several others were cut slightly, among whom were Alonzo West, and Caroline, and Y. B. Bratcher, near the eye, while assisting in making the attack. No cause is assigned for the trouble. Sanders and Morgan were tried in the Fordville Police Court Monday and held to await the action of the grand jury, and in default of bail were brought to Hartford and jailed.

LATENT—Sanders executed bond and was released from custody yesterday afternoon.

The entertainment given by Miss Isabelle McHenry last Friday night in honor of Miss Clara Duncan and Craig will be remembered as one of the most pleasant of the season by all who were in attendance. The exercises consisted in social conversation, which was so well arranged by the admirable hostess that no avails was left for a moment without the presence of some fair maiden to give him thanks. Those present were Miss Fannie Clarkson, Agnes Craig, Katie Coombs, Eva Morton, Jessie Ford, Mary Cox, Lida Walker, Sarah H. Gay, Edna Ford, Pauline Moore, J. B. McFee, J. W. Lytle, Leo Summerlin, J. H. White, Wallace Stewart, Jas. Smith, A. B. Bird, Geo. Moore, G. B. Liden and J. J. McHenry. Refreshments of the finest variety were served in abundance and when the hour for separation arrived, the young people expressed themselves as having been highly entertained. The young ladies of Hartford know how to entertain.

For the World's Fair.

THE HERALD is in receipt of the following communication from the World's Fair exhibit, full particulars of which will be found in another column:

HARRISON, Ky., Feb. 28, 1893.

The Hon. W. H. Dulaney, President of Board of Commissioners for the State of Kentucky, says: "We ask that all our citizens, men and women, shall take a personal interest in bringing out the resources of the State, its agricultural and horticultural products, its history, its educational advantages, its progress in manufactures, liberal arts, etc., and send them to the World's Fair."

Our managers request correspondence with the people who have in their possession any article that they will lend to the State Board of Commissioners, such as portraits of distinguished Kentuckians, paintings in oil, or water color of merit, sculpture, carvings, etc. All articles accepted by the board will be packed, shipped and insured at the cost of the board and the greatest care taken in handling consignments. The

ON THE 22nd DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1892

We closed our credit ledger and adopted a new system, to-wit, the CASH system, and we come again this week after a year's experience, thoroughly convinced that it was a great day with us. We find our sales larger, our losses less and business more pleasant with all.

When we look over the list of merchants and find 94 out of every 100 falling by the wayside, we must attribute it to King Credit, and the piles of worthless ledgers on hand filled with accounts, must go in with the losses. In calling to mind this our first year in the cash business, we are very grateful for the patronage we have received and hope to retain the same on the strictly Cash system—or its equal—that we have begun.

This week we are taking stock and find a great many things that you can use at a bargain rather than that we should carry them over. Come and see for yourself. Already we have begun to receive Farmers' Supplies in the way of Field Seeds, Oats, Gearing, Collars, Fence Wire, &c.
